The Dayton Public School Library.

---

THE DAYTON PUBLIC SCHOOL LIBRARY is under the control of the Board of Education, is managed by a committee of three of its members appointed annually and is free to all citizens. In 1860 the large collection of books belonging to the Dayton Library Association was united with that of the Public Schools and the city thus acquired the present very valuable Library. It is sustained by a levy of one-tenth of a mill on the dollar of the taxable property of the City.

The following are the Rules governing the Library :

The Library room shall be open on each day of the week, excepting on public thanksgiving and the usual holidays, from 9 A. M. to 12 M., and from 3 P. M. to 6 P. M., and Saturday evenings from 7 to 9 P. M.

All inhabitants of the city of Dayton above the age of 14 years, of respectable character and orderly conduct, may have free access to the reading room, during regular Library hours.

All books, periodicals and papers may, at the direction of the Librarian be used in the reading room; but no books so used shall be removed from the rooms.

Every person using a book or paper in the reading room shall return the same to the Librarian, or to its proper place; and any person acting in an unbecoming manner, may be excluded from the room.

Under the rules of the Board of Education, the following persons may take books from the Library for home use :

All inhabitants of the city above the age of fourteen years, who may be duly certified to the Librarian as hereinafter specified; and persons not residing in the city, whose daily business is in the city, may take books by consent of the Library Committee.

Children between the ages of ten and fourteen years, at the request of their parents or guardians, if the same are known to the Librarian to be responsible, and if not so known, then at the request or recommendation of some responsible citizen; provided, that the Librarian shall use his discretion as to the size and character of books to be taken by such children.

Life members and members in perpetuity of the Dayton Library Association are to have the same privilege as to drawing books which they had under said Association.

Pupils over fourteen years of age attending the public schools as pay scholars, while actually in the city and attending said schools.

Every person not known to the Librarian to be responsible shall be required to produce and place in the hands of the Librarian a certificate from some responsible citizen of the city, endorsing for him or her.

Each person entitled to take books from the Library may draw therefrom one volume at a time, and no more; provided, that the same person may at the discretion of the Librarian, where the work consists of two or more octavo volumes, be permitted to take two of said volumes; and the same family shall not take more than two volumes at the same time.

No person shall be allowed to retain the same volume more than two weeks without returning the same to the Librarian and having it re-charged; nor shall the same volume be re-charged the second time, till returned and suffered to remain upon the shelf one full day.

No person shall be permitted to lend a library book to another person not a member of the same household.

Any person who shall retain a royal octavo volume or volume of larger size longer than the rules permit, shall be fined two cents per day for such unlawful detention; and at the rate of one per cent. per day for the detention of any smaller volume, unless prevented from returning the same by sickness or other unavoidable cause.

Encyclopedias, Dictionaries, and other books used or marked as works of reference, shall not be taken from the room without the consent in writing of the Library Committee.

Every book, detained one week beyond its time, shall be sent for by the Librarian, and the expenses incurred in obtaining it shall be paid by the person detaining the same.

All injuries to any book, beyond a reasonable wear, shall be made good to the satisfaction of the Library Committee, by the party liable therefor.

All books, lost or destroyed, shall be paid for at their current value by the person losing or destroying the same; and if said book be part of a set, he or she shall pay for the entire set and be entitled to the remaining volumes.

No person shall be permitted to take a book from the Library while any fine or assessment against him or her remains unsettled.

All books when returned to the Library, shall be placed by the Librarian upon the appropriate shelves, in plain view of any person desiring to examine them; and no preference shall be allowed to any person entitled to take books from said Library.

THE DAYTON PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Librarian's Duties.

The Librarian shall be elected by a majority vote of all the members of the Board of Education, at the last regular meeting of said Board in August, annually, and shall receive such compensation as the Board may determine.

The Librarian, under the direction of the Library Committee, shall have charge of the library rooms and books and property therein, and be responsible for due diligence in caring for the same.

The Librarian shall be present in the room during library hours and discharge the duties usually devolving upon Librarians.

The Librarian shall cause to be collected all dues to the Library.

The Librarian shall mark every book, both outside and inside, with the proper shelf and running number.

GOVERNMENT OF THE LIBRARY.

THE Library Rooms shall be open on each secular day of the week (except usual holidays), from 9:00 A. M. to 9:00 P. M.

All books, periodicals, and papers, may under the direction of the Librarian, be used in the Library Room during regular Library hours, by any person above the age of fourteen years, of respectable character and orderly conduct.

Every such person desiring to read or consult any book, periodical, or paper, shall apply to the Librarian or assistant, and shall return such book, paper, or periodical to the Librarian, or its proper place. Any person acting in a disorderly manner shall be excluded from the room. No book, periodical, or paper shall be taken from the room, unless the same is charged upon the Library register.

Every inhabitant of the city of Dayton, over sixteen years of age, known to the Librarian as responsible, or if not so known, then upon the written certificate to such responsibility of some known citizen, which the Librarian shall require, shall be entitled to draw books from the Library under the rules; also, by special consent in each case of the Library Committee, non-residents whose daily business is in the city.

No minor, under the age of sixteen years, shall be allowed to draw books until he or she files a written guarantee of his or her parent, guardian or a citizen who will be responsible for all books drawn by, and fines and assessments against such minor. Subject to the above conditions, minors between the ages of ten and sixteen years, resident, or attending the public schools, or pay scholars, shall have use of the Library. No minor, under the age of ten years, shall be allowed the use of the Library.

Life-members, and members in perpetuity of the Dayton Library Association, shall have the same privilege in use of Library as they had under said association, subject to the rules of the Library.

A separate account shall be kept with each person drawing books, in the Library register. No person shall be permitted to draw upon account of another, without, in each instance, the written order of such other person. One volume only shall be charged, or be out on one account, unless the work shall consist of two or more octavo or smaller volumes, when two volumes of such work may be charged to one account.

Books (except "seven day books") may be retained two weeks, and be renewed for the same period, but shall not be reissued to the same person, until they have been returned and are on the shelves one full day. Such books of recent purchase as the Library Committee may have labelled "seven day books," shall not be kept more than one week, and shall not be renewed.

No person shall be permitted to lend a Library book to another person not a member of the same household.

Any person who shall retain a volume or volumes longer than the rules permit, shall be fined two cents per day for such unlawful detention of each volume.

Encyclopedias, dictionaries, and other books used or marked as works of reference, shall not be taken from the room without the consent in writing of the Library Committee.

All injuries to any book, beyond a reasonable wear, shall be made good to the satisfaction of the Library Committee by the party liable therefor.

Every book detained one week beyond its time shall be sent for by the Librarian, or written notice be mailed or sent to the delinquent party, and the expenses incurred in obtaining it shall be paid by the person detaining the same.

All books lost or destroyed shall be paid for at their current value, by the person losing or destroying the same; and if said book be a part of a set, he or she shall pay for the entire set, and be entitled to the remaining volumes.

No person shall be permitted to take a book from the Library, while any fine or assessment against him or her remains unsettled.

All books, when returned to the Library, shall be placed by the Librarian upon the appropriate shelves, in plain view of any person desiring to examine them; and no preference shall be allowed to any person entitled to take books.

The forms of guarantees, certificates, notices, &c., provided for, shall be prescribed by the Library Committee, and printed blanks be furnished the Librarian.

LIBRARIAN AND ASSISTANT LIBRARIAN.

The Librarian and Assistant Librarian, shall be elected by a majority vote of all the members of the Board of Education, at the last regular meeting of said Board in August, annually; and shall receive such compensation as the Board may determine.

The Librarian, under the direction of the Library Committee, shall have charge of the Library rooms, books and property therein, and be responsible for due diligence in caring for the same; cause to be collected all dues to the Library, shall catalogue and mark every book with proper shelf and running number, shall permit no books to be taken which need repairing or rebinding, and shall discharge all other duties usually devolving upon such an officer.

At the first meeting of the Board in April, July, October, and January, the Librarian shall report in writing:

First—The general condition of the Library;

Second—The number of volumes taken out during the quarter, and the weekly circulation;

Third—The number of volumes then out beyond their time, and names of persons who have failed to return the same after notice;

Fourth—The amount of fines collected and uncollected, and the amount received from other sources, which money shall be paid to the clerk, to be by him deposited with the Treasurer to the credit of the Library fund.

The Assistant Librarian, in the absence of the Librarian from the rooms, shall discharge all the duties of the Librarian; and the Library Committee shall from time to time arrange and determine, during what Library hours of each day, each of said officers shall be present at the Library rooms.

CATALOGUE

—OF THE—

DAYTON PUBLIC LIBRARY.

[EXPLANATION.—The plan of this catalogue is that in common use among all Public Libraries. Each book in the Library is entered under the author, title, and subject. Works of fiction and those having arbitrary titles which do not admit of being placed under subjects are entered under authors and titles. Pseudonymous works are entered under the author's name with a cross reference from the pseudonym, and under the pseudonym when the author's real name has not been ascertained. Anonymous works are placed under subjects and titles. The whole is arranged in one alphabetical series. A work can therefore be easily found by referring, as in a dictionary, to its author, title or subject. The number following the book is the shelf number and any person can refer to the shelf and see if the book is in.]
